The email came from Kaie (eat.shop creator). It said, in short, “Go now. Right now. Run. To Heir.” Why so demanding? Kaie had known Heir impresario Tyler from his time at the legendary L.A. store, Obsolete. So when he opened his own place in Providence, she knew it would be amazing. So I did run, and found an urban storefront filled with treasures of modern design, antique furniture, anatomical studies, and as he himself calls them, oddities. I was smitten with both the store and Tyler—they are both true originals. Hie yourself to Heir!
