This book's cover may trumpet eat and shop, but the subtext to this series is design, design, design! At Composition, the eat.shop guides would feel right at home. There's an array of snappy products each bearing the unmistakable mark of being well-designed. Better still is the book section, with titles that analyze, exhibit, praise and generally promote the well-trained eye. This is a store for which you should block out a period of time—say 2 hours—and an amount of cash—you decide the number (in my case, a large number)—and nourish your design hunger.
